The sawmill of Stickney & Coombs, at Little River, in Mendocino county, was entirely destroyed by fire at 3 o'clock Saturday morning. The loss amounts to about $20,000, partly insured. The fire is supposed to have been the work of an incendiary.

The San Jose Murder.

A dispatch to the Chronicle from San Jose of the 21st says:

The Frenchman who was found on the banks of the Uvas, in Almaden township, on Thursday last, in an insensible condition, was brought into town yesterday. This morning he died without having spoken a word since he was discovered. An inquest was held at 11 A. M. to-day, and the verdict of the jury was to the effect that the deceased's name was Ernest Caragnelli, aged 37, a native of Piedmont, France, and that he came to his death from the blows of a club in the hands of some person unknown. One witness testified that on Wednesday afternoon the deceased, in company with an Irishman, named unknown, came to his cabin on the Uvas and stated that he had just been paid $78 for chopping wood and was going below to look for another job. The next morning he was discovered in an insensible condition on the banks of the creek, a mile and a half from the cabin spoken of. His head was found to be terribly bruised, and the blood was oozing from his ears. Above him was a bank seventy feet in height, at the top of which a heavy manzanita club, an inch and a half in thickness and four feet in length, was discovered, the larger end being covered with blood. The Irishman had evidently knocked the Frenchman senseless, robbed him of the money and then thrown the body over the bank. The murderer is still at large.

Late Telegrams.

EASTERN.

WASHINGTON, March 23d. Luttrell will to-morrow offer a resolution directing the Postmaster-General to suspend all payments on account of the Pacific Coast mail contracts of Barlow, Sanderson and others who he alleges are drawing money from the department in advance of the fulfillment of their contracts. Luttrell says these parties have in violation of law been paid about $200,000 in advance, and he proposes to have the whole matter investigated with the view also of defeating a number of stray bids which he says have been put in by the same parties for prospective service on the Pacific Coast.

Clayton was before a sub-committee of the Ways and Means Committee to-day urging the imposition of a tax of ten cents per pint upon all imitation effervescent wines for the protection of natural sparkling wine producers.

NEW YORK, March 14th. The freight men of the Pennsylvania Central Railroad, who struck for an advance of wages, have returned to work at old prices with the promise of an increase should other companies make an advance. The Erie Company have resolved not to re-employ any men who joined in the recent strike. All the laborers wanted, and more, are offering, now that protection to workmen is guaranteed.

WASHINGTON, March 24th. The House Committee of Ways and Means will probably report a bill abolishing the Moity System. It is expected to be followed by a joint resolution authorizing the President to appoint a Commission to codify the laws and recommend any amendments necessary to perfect a consistent system.

If the Pacific Railroad Committee fails in its pending efforts to effect an agreement with the Union Pacific Railroad, it will recommend legislation compelling the company to pay taxes on the lands already entered. They have escaped taxation hitherto because the Interior Department holding that the road was not yet completed, has not issued its land patents and the Railroad Company refuses to pay taxes until it receives patents.

LACONNER, W. T., March 23d. The Barkerville (B.C.) Dispatch says the election on Saturday was attended with little or no excitement. The ballot boxes are expected here on Saturday, when they will be counted and the result declared. Out of eighty-one votes polled here, Mr. Walker is said to have but fourteen. Mr. Thompson will probably leave next Sunday for Ottawa.

The balloon drive which the Love and Kurtz have been running is rapidly diminishing the water in the main drive, and they anticipate trouble with the Spring freshets. It is probable that the mine will prove a success in a couple of months. The following are the wash-ups for last week: Spruce Company, 90 ounces; Point, 75; Van Winkle, 140; Victory, 380; Vancouver, 255.

A Growing Industry.

An article in the Bulletin, a few months since, describing the fruit-preserving establishment recently erected in San Lorenzo, led to much inquiry whether the right to use the process could be secured for fruit-growers in other parts of the State. In answer to numerous letters, the inventor, Charles Alden, has arrived in California, and a company has been organized in this city, called "The Alden Fruit Preserving Company of California," office at 402 Montgomery street. Officers have been chosen as follows: C. W. Deitzler, President; W. M. Wherry, Vice-President; Frank Pyle, Secretary and Superintendent. These officers, associated with John Hewston, Jr., and Thomas Cole, are the Directors, and they are now prepared to furnish machinery for factories in any portion of the State required, and the right to use the process. It is an advantage to have the factory in the neighborhood of the orchards, as the transportation and consequent injury of the fruit is thereby avoided.

The Alden products, though only of recent introduction, have reached a high standard as articles of commerce, and the demand for them is rapidly increasing in this country and in Europe. The fifty factories which have been in operation in the Eastern States, during the past season, have been unable to supply the demand, and a number of car-loads of these products were sent East this winter, upon orders, by Messrs. Littlefield, Webb & Co., the agents in this city, who are constantly receiving orders for more from Chicago, England, and the islands of the Pacific Ocean, which cannot be filled, the supply having been exhausted. There seems to be no danger of overstocking the market, and several new factories will be put in operation in California, this Spring. The Alden process promises to be of incalculable value to our State, as it will open a new field for our fruit-growers, and enable them to utilize every pound of their fruit, even to the cores and skins.

The product may be shipped to any portion of the world, and ere long California fruits may become as popular in foreign markets as her wheat now is. The subject of the fruit for wheat would do much to preserve the richness of the soil, which wheat rapidly impoverishes. California raisins have not, as yet, acquired a very high reputation, but these prepared by this process are among the best, while the cost and time of curing are greatly less. The raisin has the real grape flavor, and is perfectly clean. As grape-growing for the manufacture of wine has not proved profitable in California, it is probable that the raisin business will, in a measure, take the place of this branch of industry in our State. Mr. Harwood, of Santa Clara county, and other large grape growers, have recently paid much attention to the cultivation of the raisin grape, and in some cases whole vineyards of the wine grape have been grafted with a variety suitable for raisins, which, as well as Zante currants, prunes, plums, and apricots, have a market value the world over, and do not need the advertising and pushing necessary to establish a new brand of wine.

The Alden process is equally valuable for preparing vegetables, such as tomatoes, potatoes, onions, beans, string beans, corn, etc.; also, tobacco, hops, chicory, medicinal herbs, etc. The vegetables prepared by this process are used in large quantities by our army and navy, and are now being introduced into the armies and navies of other governments, and there seems to be no room to doubt that these products will, ere long, take the place of the canned goods, being better, sweeter, and cheaper. We would probably be profitable for the people of California to resuscitate their neglected orchards and vineyards and plant raisin grapes. Zante currants, prunes, plums, and apricots—fruits which cannot be successfully raised east of the Rocky Mountains.—[Bulletin.]

A little boy in a Nelson street family caught his foot in some worsted with which his sister was working, and sentence "God is Love," in perforated card-board, and got a crack on the ear that will lay him up for a fortnight—if it does not injure him for life.—[Danbury.]

A fight among several on Nelson street, Sunday afternoon, was broken up by the police, who succeeded in securing but one of the party. He being engaged in holding the library books and testaments of the combatants, did not succeed in getting away.—[Danbury.]

The only merit possessed by some contributions we receive is that they were never before in print. The merit is so slight that we never have the heart to rob them of it.—[Danbury.]

A New Kind of Competition.

High freight tariffs, competition, etc., are engrossing so much attention that the following from the Denver News will be appreciated:

The Union Pacific have put on a line of wagons drawn by oxen between Cheyenne and Longmont. A round trip can be made in from seven to eight days and the present daily capacity of the line is, as we learn, from four to five tons a day. The object is to try and force the Denver Pacific to give a rate on Union Pacific freight, and which is refused because the Union Pacific in turn will not give a western connection. It seems that the ox-line business will not stop here. We understand that the Kansas Pacific proposes to put on a similar line between Denver and Central and Georgetown to run opposition to the Colorado Central. This is what might be termed fighting the devil with fire. If an ox-line from Cheyenne to Longmont can succeed, it is more than certain that an ox-line in the mountains will; and especially since the Kansas Pacific have control of the freight at this end of the line. If this should be done it will be another demonstration of the extreme rivalry existing between these two roads, and all growing out of the one fact that the Union Pacific persists in violating its charter and refuses to give a western connection to the Denver and Kansas Pacific roads.

If the railroad companies can play this kind of a game and fight each other with ox-trains, it is possible that the same kind of tactics may be brought to bear against them. Our up-country friends who are dissatisfied with the high rates charged on the railroads and whose freight only requires transportation a short distance, can put on ox or mule trains and fairly run the iron horse off the track. It would be amusing if the weapons used by the railroad companies against each other should in the end be turned against themselves.

How to Make the Vineyard Profitable.

The difficulties under which wine making is struggling has induced those interested in vineyards to look around for some means of increasing the profits of viticulture. C. D. Brooks, in the Rural Press, gives his experience in making raisins, and it is possible that this branch of the business may bring back to our grape-growers the money they have invested. He says:

"I have seen several inquiries in the Rural for information in regard to raisins. I send you a sample of those I raise and cure. The raisins are made from the 'Malaga Muscat,' or Muscat of Alexandria; and, after a long and close investigation, I am satisfied in my own mind that this is the raisin of commerce, and no other grape will make a raisin at all, but will simply be dried grapes when cured, except the 'Royal Muscadine,' which makes a fair raisin, though smaller and seed larger. I have had several hundred boxes of these raisins in market the last two years, and have had many letters of commendation and inquiry in regard to them.

"I find it to be a profitable business. They have brought in the San Francisco market this Winter, fifteen cents per pound, wholesale. I am extending my vineyard of them every year; grow them on hill-slopes. What cuttings I don't use I have been giving away for several years. I paid twelve dollars per hundred for the first lot, and then cultivated for raisins. The habit of the grape will have to be closely observed by the cultivator.

"I have been prompted to write these lines because it is too bad for a person to set out vineyards for raisins, and cultivate them for four years, and then have nothing but dried grapes, that he can hardly sell at any price."

Those Perfect Codes.

The comforts flowing from careless and hasty legislation are pleasantly illustrated by the recent decision of the Supreme Court declaring the unconstitutionality of that portion of the Codes which delegates to the State Board of Equalization the right to fix the rate of taxation in certain cases. The attention of the Commissioners was called to this matter at the time, and one of the members of the commission held that the section was unconstitutional, and did his best to have the matter more thoroughly examined, but he was overborne by the others, who not content with hastily overruling his better judgment, sharply criticised him in the public prints. The Codes were then rushed hastily through the Legislature, and we have lately seen the glorification of Mr. Hammond over their perfection. It is unfortunate for him that the decision of the Supreme Court follows so closely upon his comparison of the work of the commission, with the Codes of Justinian, but it will we hope, be a lesson our legislators will not soon forget.

We have been receiving for some time two valuable publications from New York, the Mercantile Journal and the Grocers' Price Current, that we can safely recommend to the business men of this city. Both are complete in their make-up and are conducted with rare ability. Being published in the great center of American commerce and backed by ample capital, they are able to give an amount and variety of information on business matters that cannot be obtained from any other source. Both are published weekly, the Journal at $5 and the Price Current at $3 a year by the New York Mercantile Journal Company.

A Kansas Horror.

A correspondent of the Chicago Tribune, writing from Topeka, Kansas, March 24, says:

Since the Bender horror in Labette county was discovered there has been nothing so much excited the people of this community as an atrocity that came to light last night in this city. A whole family—father, mother and son—by the name of Olds were arrested on suspicion of having murdered a neighbor named Daniel Ferris. He kept a grocery and provision store on Sixth avenue, near the east side of the city, and was carrying on a thriving trade. He slept in his store and scarcely ever left, doing his own cooking and having few intimate acquaintances in the city. He was a very prudent dealer and was generally believed to have a good deal of money. Fred Olds, the son, who is about seventeen years of age, has not done any work this Winter, and was known to be without money. His being flush for several days past excited the suspicions of the neighbors and Mr. Cottrell informed J. M. Hightshoe, a relative of the deceased, that Ferris had not been seen around his place of business for the past two days, and that he had better look into the matter. Mr. Hightshoe, on receiving this word, called on officer Street and Sheriff Wade, Marshal Hannon and Deputy Sheriff Davis, went to the store of Mr. Ferris, which they found in possession of Frank Olds and his son Fred. These men, who are well known in this city and who have been seen carrying goods away from the place at various times during the past two days, as stated by persons living in the vicinity, on being questioned by the officers, said that Ferris had gone East on the night train for the purpose of getting married and would be back in two or three days. This was denied by Mr. Hightshoe as an impossible thing to happen; for he felt sure if such had been the intention of Ferris it would have been communicated to him. On further questioning the Oldses they made contradictory statements, saying that Ferris had gone South to remain some time, and in short, so conducted themselves that they were arrested and locked up in the county jail. The officers then proceeded to search the premises and after a short time it was shown that their fears were well grounded; for it took but a short time to look through the place and to find blood on the stairway leading to the cellar. The examination was continued by digging in two or three places in the earth, and under a pile of potatoes which were there and covered about a foot deep the dead body was found, but it was not disturbed, just enough of one arm being uncovered to show the officers they were right.

Coroner Sheldon was at once called to the scene, and summoning a jury proceeded to the fearful task of unearthing the remains. After removing the potatoes and digging down about a foot the corpse was lifted from the place where the villains who committed the bloody deed had hidden it and brought up into the storeroom. An examination showed that Mr. Ferris had been shot through the head and had his throat cut almost from ear to ear, and was buried in this shallow hole with all his clothes on. The ball had entered the left side of the face just below the temple and gone clean through the head, coming out a little lower on the left side than where it entered on the right. An examination of the store showed a hole in the plastering with blood scattered around, where it is probable that the bullet struck.

Several witnesses were examined, after which the suspected murderer, Fred Olds, was next placed upon the witness stand, and his testimony occupied the time from three o'clock till dark. Your correspondent never saw so much nerve exhibited by a hardened criminal as is possessed by this slight stripling of seventeen. He was led to the side of the corpse and asked if he could identify the murdered man. He answered, "Yes, I can; that is David Ferris." The Doctor took hold of the head while he stood close to the body, and suddenly pulled it to one side, exposing the horrible goring wound in the neck to his view, but he never quailed nor moved a muscle. He has red hair and cold gray eyes, and his face is somewhat freckled. He said that he had visited the theater on Friday night, and afterwards visited several saloons in company with several young companions; told how many drinks and cigars he had taken, how much money he had spent for them and how much he afterwards lost at cards with an indifference that would have done credit to the hero of a hundred murders.

County Attorney Ryan trapped him into making several inconsistent statements; but he would try to explain without even for a moment losing his presence of mind. He identified the gun and boots as belonging to him, and explained that he had taken the gun to the store and left it there several days before for the purpose of trading with a young man who had sometimes visited the store. He denied seeing any place where he could have got fresh blood on his boots. His shirt sleeve had a large spot of blood on it which he had evidently tried to wash out. He claimed that it was stained with tobacco juice. The store was closed all day Friday, yet he claimed that he had been in the store and contracted with Ferris that day at twelve o'clock, and had received twenty-five dollars from him to replenish the supplies of the store, and he had met him again that night about eight o'clock, near the store, in company with a strange man. He said that Ferris told him that he was going East on the night train, and wanted him to take charge of the store in the morning. His story was very thin, and he kept contradicting himself and making matters worse every time he tried to better it. About six o'clock Judge Haulback came into court, and appeared as counsel for the witness, and told him to refuse answering any more questions. His testimony was then read to him, and he corrected it in a number of particulars; but under the advice of his counsel, refused to sign his name to it.

The Court then adjourned till nine o'clock to-morrow morning, when the inquest will be renewed, with Frank Olds, the father of this precocious monster, on the stand. The old man runs an express wagon, and has always been considered an honest, industrious citizen. Public sentiment is undecided as to his guilt or innocence, but it hardly seems possible that he has no guilty knowledge of the deed.

The following atrocious paragraph appears in an exchange: "Dorothy Williams, of Wyoming, started to walk three miles to church the other Sunday, and they found her torn into about fifty pieces, the result of meeting a bear whose moral character was at a low state."

A patent iron-coffin dealer advertises that those who have used his invention once will not use any other.

Los Nietos Correspondence.

NIETOS, March 12, 1874.

EDITOR HERALD:—Once more the monotony of our quiet village is broken by the shrill whistle of the "iron horse" and the long train of cars bringing lumber to this depot. We notice wagons continually unloading. They came to the "sticking point" and always "stuck" in the mud. Then all ye of a moral feeling stick your fingers in your ears, though they never curse the railroad company for putting the depot in a mudhole. No, no. Some unload, pull out and reload, and coming to the next hole stick again. More cursing, etc., some like men bring it in on their shoulders. We shipped as follows since the cars have been running: Tuesday, 153 sacks barley and 25 sacks corn; Wednesday, 163 sacks corn and 5 sacks cedar beans. On hand 385 sacks corn, 13 sacks pop-corn and 1 bale merchandise for San Francisco.

Received 43 cars lumber, and two cases merchandise.

We note with pleasure the opening of the "Los Nietos Collegiate Institute." It has about fifty pupils and we see no reason why it should not be a success. Nothing speaks higher for a community than school facilities. While we earnestly support schools everywhere it is but a duty we owe this valley to say that this one offers peculiar advantages on account of locality—in one of the finest, most fertile and most healthful valleys in Southern California. But for want of space we make no further comments but hope and certainly expect to see "The Los Nietos Collegiate Institute" properly advertised in the HERALD—the paper that will carry it into the house of all reading people in every corner of the country.

We see a move is on foot to rid us of the water that is overflowing the ditches and ruining thousands of acres of good land. Much credit is due to the men who are laboring so hard to rid us of this nuisance in winter. Just a year ago there was a subscription for the purpose of raising money to make a waste ditch for water in Winter, and we remember the gentleman carrying the paper pledged his honor to keep the water off of us if we paid the amount he asked, and it was promptly paid him. We say, is it right that people's money should be taken away from them for no consideration? That man is the one who now refuses to make any terms with the people. We understand that the people will apply for a writ of injunction to-day. Go ahead, we are in for the fight. Our place is under water too. If you can find "Nix" (and he'll be found) he will likely contribute a little to defray expenses. We may say more on this subject in our next.

The railroad agent here says that regular trains will run here next month; but who believes it?

Yours truly,

The Hill Improvements.

Water is the all important question in Southern California. Let there be water and everything in the vegetable line springs up and grows with a growth unparalleled in other localities. Orange trees spring up with marvelous rapidity, and the spot becomes a little paradise under the manipulation of industry, wherever water can be had.

The hill lands have been delayed in their sale simply because the arrangements for water were insufficient. The time given for their sale has consequently been extended for two months. A large reservoir capable of containing untold hundreds of thousands of gallons of water is now being constructed. An engine and pump is now on its way hither, which will raise 30,000 gallons of water per hour into the reservoir; more than is now consumed by the entire city of Los Angeles.

All lots must be sold previous to April 12th, for upon that date those that are left will be disposed of at public auction, by the popular auctioneer, Noyes. They will be sold on the installment plan, at his rooms in the Temple Block on Spring street; the first installment payable on the day of sale.

Fifteen thousand feet of pipe are now being laid in the streets, 8,000 feet of which are already in the ground, and a million-gallon reservoir is now being made to supply the lots with water.

The City Surveyor has been ordered to define the grades and lines of Olive, Charity and Bunker Hill avenues, from Hill to Hope; Second street and Temple street from Hill to Hope. This will bring these lands within easy reach of the business part of the city. The distance to the Court-house is less than it is to the Turner's Hall.

Mr. Beaudry being the owner by perfect and indisputable title, offers the following scheme believing that it supplies a felt want.

His various tracts have been surveyed, and plotted in lots of convenient size for residences, upwards of two hundred in number, and the maps, together with abstracts of title, are kept for public inspection at his office, opposite the Pico House.

Any person desiring to purchase can inspect the land, select his lot or lots, and acquire the same, if not previously taken up by another, upon the following terms, purchasers not being restricted to a single lot.

The purchaser or his successor to pay the fixed price of the land selected by him in equal monthly installments, as follows: On lots valued at $400 and upwards, but not to exceed $500, $15 per month; on those valued at $300 and less than $400, $10 per month. Payments in gold or currency and no interest demanded. For cash in hand, a reduction of fifteen per cent will be made.

The purchaser to have immediate possession upon payment of the first installment and on execution and delivery of contract.

The right of the purchaser may be assignable to him, and his assigns to succeed to all his privileges and liabilities; standing in all respects towards the vendor as an original obligor.

Purchasers shall not be restricted to the payment of the installments as above shown, but may make payments in advance, and on such payments he will allow one per cent per month, from the date of payment until said payment would become due.

Upon selection of a lot or lots by a purchaser and payment of the first installment with $5 in U. S. gold coin, as expenses on the document, Mr. Beaudry, with the purchaser, will execute and acknowledge a sealed agreement embodying the above conditions; and, upon full payment, according thereto, the undersigned will execute and deliver to the purchaser, or his lawful representatives, on demand, a good and sufficient and absolute deed of conveyance of the abstracted lands, in form of warranty against grantor, the grantee paying the cost of such deed.

The location is very desirable. All that has heretofore been lacking is water, and that is now supplied. Anywhere else, in a desirable location, lots readily command from $500 to $1,000, and even higher rates. This property is put at the astonishing low price of from $300 to $400. But this is not all. This may be paid in currency and a reduction of fifteen per cent will be made for cash in hand.

Riverside is to have a telegraph connection with the outside world. The Western Union Telegraph Company is now forwarding materials for building the line.

John J. Reynolds informs us that he found a shawl yesterday on the road between Capt. Winston's and Titus' places. The owner can find it at Fleishman's.

George Hinds, beside supplying the citizens of Wilmington and the Pacific Mail steamers with fresh meats, ships largely of dressed beef and mutton to San Francisco.

By reference to our advertising columns it will be seen that "Jack's Pipes" speaks his piece and sings his songs at the Theatre on Saturday evening. We hope to see a crowded house to greet him. Programmes will be issued to-morrow.

A mammoth turtle on the sidewalk in front of Stedman's saloon has been attracting the attention of the curious, but on Saturday it will disappear from view in the shape of soups and steaks for the enjoyment of the patrons of this excellent saloon.

The Board of Directors of the Grange Co-operative Company will hold a meeting in the hall of the Los Angeles Grange on Tuesday at 1 o'clock p. m. The stockholders will meet at the same time and place for the purpose of advising with the Board.

The steamer Orizaba will sail for San Francisco to-morrow. Passengers from this city will leave the depot at 11 o'clock a. m. It was at first announced that she would sail to-day, but her departure has been necessarily postponed, and the traveling public will please make a note of it.

J. W. Dunbar, the dispenser of liquid delight at the Clarendon, secured the largest specimen of the pelecanus oncorhynchus yesterday we ever saw—measuring eleven feet from tip to tip. The bird is intended as the nucleus of a museum, and will be kept on exhibition as a marksmanship, having knocked this rara avis over with a stone at the distance of 100 yards.

It might as well be mentioned, however, that previously Paul Shellers, of the Five-mile House had filled the bird about half full of No. 4 shot, and a San Bernardino freight team or two had passed over it—leaving it pretty essentially dead before Jim found it. But the shot was a good one, and it is far from our purpose to detract from his honors by contradicting his oft repeated story of last evening that he was the veritable slayer.

The Plaza.

If it be in order, we would call the attention of our City Fathers to the present dismantled condition of our plaza. Like Mark Twain's "Baudy," it is a most magnificent ruin. The fence is down in some places, the ground is overgrown with rank weeds and the fountain is very nearly in that poetical state of dilapidation described by Hood:

"The fountain was a dry—neglect and time had marred the work of art and mason, And eels and croaking frogs, begot of slime, Sprawled in the ruin'd basin."

This state of affairs may be very romantic and all that, but it does not conduce to the credit of a city visited annually by thousands of people from every part of the world.

Let us have a small appropriation to improve the plaza, and thus add to the good looks, health and happiness of Los Angeles.

Temperance Lectures.

We have received a note from Dr. Haskell of San Francisco asking us to note the fact that he will lecture in this city on Sunday, April 19th. The Doctor has been lecturing up the country, and seems to have made a favorable impression. At Grass Valley he has been very favorably received, as the following from the Union of the 20th will testify:

Dr. Haskell continues to amuse, entertain and instruct large audiences here. His lectures are delivered at the Methodist church, and each lecture is better than the preceding one. His audiences have been increasing each night. Dr. Haskell is not the fanatic that many suppose him to be, although he is very thoroughly in earnest on the subject of temperance and reform. He has charity, good will and good feeling for those who are commonly denominated as sinners. He wants the sinners to attend his talks. He is not going to pass them by on the other side.

The Goodall, Nelson & Perkins Line.

The steamers of this line have now for some time been making regular trips between our port of Wilmington and San Francisco, and are rapidly growing into favor. The Monterey is the first steamer of any line to make regular trips from the wharf, thus obviating the necessity of lighterage. The company is doing all in its power to accommodate the public, and their steamers are being improved so as to bring them fully up to the requirements of the trade. The Santa Barbara Indes leave from Mr. Wolfson, the agent of the line at that place, the Ventura and Wyanda are now in the docks at San Francisco and are being altered by the putting in of powerful compound engines with super-heater boilers. These vessels are to be finished in about two months from this time, and a guarantee has been entered into that they will run from San Francisco to Santa Barbara in twenty hours, with a saving of 35 per cent of fuel and gaining 16 per cent in speed.

We have been informed that the name of the Wyanda will be changed, and that out of compliment to our city, she will on her return to service be christened the "Los Angeles." This will no doubt commend her to the favor of our people and help to convince them that the line is a permanent one.

The Cold Water Campaign.

The lady cold-waterites assembled at the I. O. G. T. Hall last evening for the purpose of perfecting their organization and adopting plans for further operations. The gentlemen were invited to participate in the meeting.

Mrs. Lawyer Hubbell was called to the chair, and the meeting was opened by prayer by Rev. Dr. Lucky.

The Secretary's husband read the minutes of the previous meeting, after which the discussion of the style of pledge to be adopted was begun. The last meeting voted against a total abstinence pledge, and the sentiment of this meeting seemed to be in favor of total abstinence.

Mrs. DuBois moved the adoption of a total abstinence pledge. She thought we might as well attempt to dam the Niagara as to carry on a temperance movement with any less radical platform than total abstinence.

The motion prevailed. The gentlemen present were then asked to show their hands on the no-liquor question, and did so. A majority voted in favor of cold water and a few kept their seats.

The election of permanent officers being considered next in order, nominations for President were received. The temporary President, who was absent, being opposed to the total abstinence pledge, it was thought that she should not accept the position of permanent President under the new order of things. Mrs. Hubbell was nominated but declined. Several others were nominated and also declined, when Mrs. Hubbell was again nominated and was this time elected, the Secretary, Mrs. Gillette, putting the motion.

Mrs. Hubbell suggested two Vice-Presidents to share the responsibilities of the Presidential office. Mrs. DuBois and Mrs. Yarnell were elected Vice-Presidents.

Dr. Lucky called on the Secretary for the objects of the organization as set forth by the former meeting.

Mrs. Gillette stated that there were no plans adopted any further than what appeared on the minutes.

Mr. Gillette stated that the gentlemen present, many of whom were members of secret temperance organizations, were ready and willing to participate in the meeting; but desired that the ladies should take the lead.

Judge Widney thought there was lack of deliberation; there appeared to be no plan of operations. If the praying crusade was to be carried on here as it had been in the East, then the ladies must prepare to face the music and commence work in earnest. If it was to be simply another temperance organization, he saw no reason why all could not join the temperance orders now in operation and thus save the trouble of starting the machinery of another. He favored the appointment of a committee to prepare a plan of action.

Mr. Gillette did not think it advisable to carry on the work here as it had been carried on in the East. A canvass of this city some time since developed the fact that there were one hundred and twenty places within the city limits where intoxicating liquors were sold as a beverage. Reports from District Judges and District Attorneys throughout the State showed that the almost universal cause of crime as developed in the courts was intoxicating liquors, while the Physician-in-Chief of the Asylum at Stockton gave in as evidence that ninety-eight per cent of the insane under his charge were made so by strong drink.

Rev. Mr. Campbell, of the Methodist Church South, thought that if we stopped to argue with the devil he would get the best of us, hence he favored total abstinence. He had great faith in prayer and thought that the ladies should organize, pray, and ask men to sign the total abstinence pledge. Public opinion was to be manufactured, and when once formed nothing could withstand its influence.

Mrs. Widney thought that there were many ladies who could and would engage in the work, but that the circulation of the pledge and the creation of a healthy public sentiment was much preferable to visiting the saloons.

Mr. Reed favored the canvassing of the city by squads of ladies with pledges that should range from six months to life.

Dr. Lucky favored a few more public meetings. The people needed stirring up. The ministers should devote Sunday evenings to the temperance question.

Mr. Yarnell moved that Dr. Lucky and Misses Hubbell and Spencer be appointed a committee to draft a pledge and present it to the meeting. The motion prevailed and the committee after deliberation presented the following pledge:

"I hereby pledge my sacred honor that I will not make, buy, sell, furnish, or cause to be furnished to others as a beverage any spirituous or malt liquors, wine or cider."

On motion the ladies are to hold a meeting at Good Templar Hall on Friday afternoon at 1 o'clock, for the purpose of perfecting their plans and getting ready for work. The ladies at the meeting next Friday are also to make arrangements for another public meeting, invite speakers, etc.

Meeting of the Chamber of Commerce.

The Directors of the Chamber of Commerce pursuant to a call for special meeting, met last night, in the office of the District Judge. The Directors present were Messrs. S. Lazard, H. W. Hellman, M. J. Newman, P. S. Beaudry, Dr. J. S. Griffin and J. W. Lord.

President Lazard took the chair shortly after 8 o'clock and called the meeting to order.

The President then stated that he had conferred with Mr. Cox of the Pacific Mail Line, and that that gentleman had signified his intention to have the Panama steamers touch at any one of our adjacent harbors which would furnish sufficient capacity.

R. C. Jackson, of the mines at Panamint was then introduced to the Board by Mr. Newman. Mr. Jacobs gave a most favorable account of the new mines in question together with their advantages for working, almost exhaustless resources and easy access. He stated that with $2,500 of $3,000 at his command he would guarantee to have the six miles of road necessary for opening communication with these mines ready for travel within six weeks.

Mr. Newman then offered the following series of resolutions which were carried by unanimous vote:

Whereas, From information brought before this Chamber it appears that the new mines of Panamint are developing great wealth and that they are of sufficient extent to sustain a large population, and wagon road a distance of about six miles, and which could be completed at a comparative small cost and in a short time it is therefore

Resolved, That the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce endorse the application of R. C. Jacobs and hereby appeals to the citizens of this city and county to subscribe such funds as may be required to complete said road.

Resolved, That a committee of three be appointed from the Directors of this Chamber to assist Mr. Jacobs in soliciting such subscriptions.

Resolved, That the newspapers of this city and county be requested to publish these resolutions.

Mr. Newman, Dr. Griffin and H. J. Hellman were appointed as committee mentioned in the resolutions.

On motion of Mr. Newman it was voted that the Chamber subscribe one hundred dollars towards the building of this road.

Dr. Griffin stated that several gentlemen engaged in the culture of semi-tropical fruits had requested him to lay before the Board the subject of opening correspondence with the Agricultural Department at Washington for the purpose of securing new and improved varieties of fruits adapted to this section, with the best methods of culture, etc.

Mr. Newman said that R. J. Rose is intending to go East soon, and suggested that he be requested to act as a committee to attend to this matter for the Chamber.

Motion was then made to this effect and carried.

Mr. Newman was appointed a committee to prepare letters and credentials for Mr. Rose.

The name of J. Bixley was proposed for membership in the Chamber and passed by a full vote.

President Lazard then stated that the Chamber of Commerce of San Francisco is desirous of securing copies of resolutions passed by this Chamber and of noting our various actions, for the purpose of working in conjunction with us in our efforts for the development of this section.

After some informal discussion the Board adjourned.

John Doe and the two Roe brothers—those ever present personages—are in trouble again. It seems that they trespassed upon some land belonging to the Mrs. Mary Starkey, for which the good lady feels aggrieved and brings suit before Justice Trafford. The defendants pleaded guilty and will pay costs.

The Downville Messenger learns that more than 1,000 head of stock has been driven out of Beckworth and Sierra valleys to the "sage brush range" during the night past. At every hay stack in the valley hundreds of rabbits congregate and feed with the cattle. One rancher counted four hundred and thirty at one time around his hay stack.

Objects of the Association.

The object of the Association is to secure pecuniary aid of $200 to the families or dependants of deceased members. This we accomplish in the most perfect and substantial manner, as has been established within the last few years by kindred societies; and that, too, without expense to the members, who are not only increased in popularity, but brings it within reach of those needing its protection and aid.

Any person, male or female, may become a member of this association if in good health and over eighteen and under fifty years of age. On proving the death of a member of the Association, his family or the person he has appointed, receives immediately from the Association $200, or one dollar for each member in good standing, if the membership is not full.

All surplus shall be loaned on good and sufficient security (on real estate) to form a "permanent reserve fund," the interest on which annually reverts to members in the form of an abatement of assessments.

In case of death, we send a notice to each member. We shall have agents in each town to receive the assessments and save members the trouble of sending direct to the Secretary.

The Association, as well as its funds, is under the control of a Board of eleven Directors, who are elected annually by the members of the Association; it is also incorporated under the Civil Code of the State, which does not allow any funds to be used for purposes other than set forth in the By-Laws, while the Secretary and Treasurer are required to give heavy bonds for the faithful performance of their duties.

The Officers and Directors of the Association receive no compensation whatever for their services, except the Secretary, who is simply paid for keeping the books of the Association and the Treasurer.

All members will be allowed the same interest on money standing to their credit that the funds of the Association draw, and they can deposit such amounts as they may desire in advance payments or as an endowment fund for future years without risk or forfeiture, whether one or many.

The Association is designed to save money, not to spend it. No one will feel poorer for belonging to it, while many will bless the day that their father, mother, husband, or brother joined it.

A payment by one of the following methods is necessary in order to secure a membership:

From 18 to 25 years of age, $15 00
" 25 to 30 " " 20 00
" 30 to 35 " " 25 00
" 35 to 40 " " 30 00
" 40 to 45 " " 35 00
" 45 to 50 " " 40 00

ANNUAL PAYMENTS.

From 18 to 25 years of age, $3 00
" 25 to 30 " " 4 00
" 30 to 35 " " 5 00
" 35 to 40 " " 6 00
" 40 to 45 " " 7 00
" 45 to 50 " " 8 00

A Life Payment secures a life membership, and relieves a person from any further payments except the one dollar assessment on the death of any member. The annual dividend of Life Members will be applied to cancel the one dollar assessment on the death of the member. Annual payments continue through life. The annual dividend to those making the annual payments will be applied first to cancel the annual payments and afterwards to cancel the one dollar assessments.

Persons are allowed to choose between ordinary membership and Life Membership. Life members are not to receive any payments, but members at the time of joining make one annual payment.

Persons taking a life membership can pay one-fourth of the required amount at the time of making application and the balance in ninety days at one per cent. per month interest.

The interest on the Reserve Fund is distributed annually among the members as a dividend, according to the length of time each person has been a member—members of five years standing receiving five times as much as members of one year's standing.
